EXCLUSIVE ROZ LEFT HEARTBROKEN

DAD'S MY BEST WIN EVER

INSPIRATION: George Best

LONG NIGHT AHEAD: Calum Best with models Sara Kavanagh and Tiffany Stanley in Bray

MAN ABOUT TOWN: Fan greets Calum at The Porterhouse in Bray after his final victory

PARTYING AHEAD: Calum Best with Sinead Duffy, who won The Miss Eclectic Garden 2012 Final

TROPHY: Moy Davitts celebrate their nail-biting final victory with our girl Geraldine Comiskey

IT WAS Ireland's wackiest football match - and its most glamorous.

Gaelic football was the beautiful game on Friday night when model Roz Purcell and man-about-town Calum Best locked horns in the final of Celebrity Bainisteoir. And the Best team won - by a nose! Calum's lads, from the Moy Davitts club in Foxford, Co. Mayo, beat Roz's team from Newtowncashel, Co. Longford, 0-9 to 0-8 in a nail-biting finish at Dublin's Parnell Park. Calum told the Sunday World he believed his dad, legendary a bit of a culture shock living in Foxford while he groomed his team for victory. And for Roz, it was a world apart from her glitzy career, flitting between modelling gigs in Dublin and New York. Shock But she is a country girl at heart, and felt right at home in Newtowncashel - not least because she grew up near the other Cashel, in Co. Tipperary. And it was fun and games all the way as the celebrity managers found unique ways to boost their teams' morale. Roz wore a bikini to a training session, which enraged the local prudes, who took to the soccer star George Best, was watching over him on the night. "I did actually look up at the sky, and I heard him say, 'good luck son, you can do it'. I know he's proud of me for this," he said. The pin-up boy and former Miss Universe Ireland had beaten a host of Irish VIPs, including singers Mary Byrne and Richie Hayes, model Pippa O'Connor and her hubby Brian Ormond, bare-knuckle boxer Paddy Doherty, comedian PJ Gallagher and Stephen Ireland's WAG Jessica Lawlor, to reach the hallowed turf. For city-slicker Calum, it was
