FURRY FRIENDS: Geraldine taking greyhounds out for a walk

Trip to pooch shelter gives Ger paws for thought

THEY ARE the friends with cuddles spare – and they're not fussy when it comes sharing the love.

The dogs of Paws Ani Rescue in Mullinahone, Tipperary, are looking for people to take them for a walk.

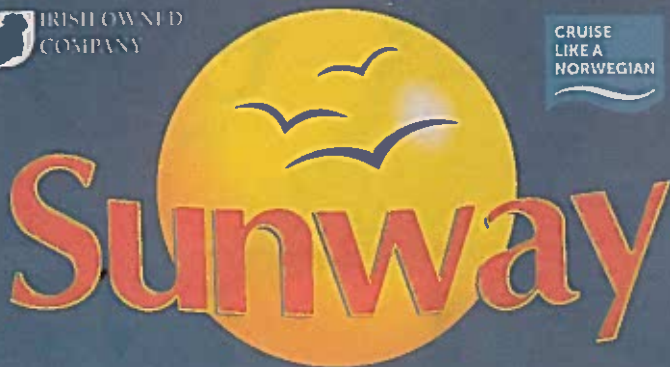

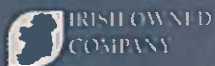

Dog-lovers who haven't got their busy lives to adopt a pooch now borrow one.

Asia Ronowska, Katja Schur and JB Van Damme have done their own – but they still drop Paws every Saturday to walk 'homeless' dogs.

Asia, a graphic design artist moved to Ireland from Poland years ago, works from home in Kilkenny city, so she can spend time with her own pet – but has other reasons for helping at the shelter.

"It's good for us and the dogs," she said. "I have lost weight since I started volunteering here!"

With at least 80 dogs in the shelter at any one time, and often just
